2 How Lumen is Differentiated: Tuition is Just the Beginning (1/2)

Low-income, first-generation students lack the system know-how, preparation, and network to access top-tier careers

Key Challenge

Lack of awareness of professional offering

Lumen Solution

Host panels and speaker series to inform
Lumens of different career paths

Lack of preparation for competitive job opportunities

Resume and interview workshops to position
Lumens for success within application processes

Lack of professional connectivity and mentorship

Engage individual and corporate Lumen affiliates for mentorship, networking, and early-career opportunities

3 How Lumen is Differentiated: Tuition is Just the Beginning (2/2)

A strong shared identity and supportive community are core differentiators of Lumen

Key Challenge

Lack of accessibility to mentorship from trusted and accomplished professionals

Lumen Solution

Regular check-ins / ad-hoc guidance sessions between the Lumen Board & Lumens

Lack of access to a strong academic support network that isn't prohibitively priced

Focus on fostering Lumen student academic synergies (shared notes, peer tutoring)

Lack of community, potential for social discrimination and challenged sense of belonging for financial aid students

Lumen sponsored social and community-building activities every semester

Drop-Out Rate

(1) Refers to the university's flagship financial aid program, Quiero Estudiar.

(2) ICFES is Colombia's national standardized test (i.e., Colombia's SAT or ACT). All Lumens ranked in the top 1% of test takers nationally.

Lumens Are Outperforming: All Other Financial Aid Peers

(1) As per Los Andes's definition, a student is considered a drop-out student if the student goes at least three semesters without enrolling.

Lumens Are Outperforming: The Broader Student Body

Major	Lumen Average GPA	Major Average GPA	Lumen Student Count ⁽¹⁾
Computer Science Engineering	4.1	3.9	4
Industrial Engineering	3.9	3.9	2
Economics	4.6	3.9	2
Electronic Engineering	4.2	3.8	1
Biomedical Engineering	4.4	3.9	1

Chemistry	4.1	3.8	1
Total	4.3	3.9	12

(1) Totals may be higher than the enrolled count given double major students' aggregate GPA is counted in both majors, where applicable.

Lumen Excellence Extends Beyond the Classroom

Lumens are highly engaged and driving the standard of excellence across campus– a few examples include:

Student	Highlight
Sebastian Martinez	National finalist in qualifying for Intelligent Planet Hackathon (an event supported by Google Cloud and Saudi Arabia's KFUPM University)
Daniel Lopez	Winner of ExpoAndes 2025 (Los Andes's science and innovation fair) for an AI voice recognition and generative voice baby-monitoring solution
Pablo Contreras	Highest Lumen GPA, part of Model United Nations leadership and an active member of the finance club
Valerie Suarez	Part of a post-grad research group since freshman year, teaching assistant for Compsci 101 (despite being a chemistry major)
Daniel Alzate	Ranks in the top 5% of the physics department based on average GPA, multi-music instrumentalist and a part of Los Andes's salsa band

The Lumen Effect

Lumen's DNA of resilience, excellence, integrity, and community will be a hub of future leaders and seeds of social mobility

Lumen Quotes: A Program with Generational Impact

Juan Angel: “Lumen has allowed me to open my eyes to the possibilities that life can offer you... Being part of Lumen is a privilege because I know I can rely on a support group that understands our needs and cares about our well-being.”

Valerie: “To be able to pursue my passions inspires me to support the younger members of my family in building their dreams and believing that this is a country with opportunities for us.”

Sebastian: “My parents dreamed of going to college, but were unable to. Being the first professional is a huge milestone for my whole family.”

Pablo: “This opportunity has been more than a dream come true. I'm the first in my family to go to university. My parents couldn't do it, so with Lumen, I am in a process of discovery and building my life project. Thank you for believing in me.”

Julian: “Many times, due to a lack of resources, we cannot access the best education. To be able to live through these experiences marks a before and after in our stories, and in my case the history of my whole family, since my parents didn't even graduate high school. I feel very grateful to all those who give us the opportunity to be part of Lumen.”

Valentina: “All of this has been possible thanks to Lumen, a program that changed my life and for which I will always be grateful.”
